

Boatyard Rules

Please be aware of the following special requirements for movement, handling and working on vessels in the Boatyard during Alert Level 3.

1. The Operations Office will not be physically open to customers.
2. Please direct all enquiries to Boatyard Administrator via email or phone.
3. All bookings and payments must be conducted remotely/electronically and in advance of boat movement.
4. Please respect social distancing rules.
5. All marina staff have been instructed to restrict interaction with anyone outside of their work team(s).
6. All vessels must have sling positions indicated clearly when presented for haul out.
7. Once the vessel has been delivered to the haul out pen and lifted to deck level, all crew must leave the haul out area immediately (defined as the area inside the painted walkway around the travel lift runways) to allow the boatyard staff unhindered access to manage the vessel (this includes surveys and lift, wash and immediate returns). The reverse must be observed for relaunches.
8. When the vessel has been washed and placed on the Boatyard, work may be carried out on the vessel in accordance with the normal Boatyard rules, however you must observe the Boatyard's social distancing rules.

Social Distancing Rules

- One worker only, or group of workers within a bubble, may access the vessel at any one time.
- A vessel owner may work on their vessel with their family bubble but no other contractors may be present until the owner has left the site.
- A registered contractor may work on a vessel with colleagues from the same company (with the appropriate company measures in place) but no other worker(s) may access the vessel until they have gone.
